

Make change without the pain of resistance

CHANGE LEADERSHIP

The majority of change projects either fail or encounter costly resistance. With the right preparation and an emotionally intelligent approach by the leadership team this can be avoided.

WHAT WE DO

Prepare your leaders and line managers to engage people and win their hearts and minds so they support change rather than resist it. This 5 step programme will show them how.

Resistance to change

Understand the reasons why people resist change how these can be avoided or managed. Learn how to engage people to win their understanding and support

Preparation is key

Engagement is more than communication. Our planning template will ensure all leaders and managers are fully prepared to engage staff with emotional intelligence

Workshop & Support

We will actively support your nominated leader(s)/manager(s) during execution of the change and can facilitate individual or team workshops where appropriate

WHO WE ARE

The only niche consultancy that supports individuals, leaders, and teams, make change at a personal level. We do this by coaching and mentoring a highly emotionally intelligent using proven tools and techniques
